A LUTHERAN ORGANIZATION

Thoughts About 2010

It is a real challenge for me to describe Compass Housing's 2010 year in a few paragraphs. We implemented the merger of three organizations into one entity. We completed and opened the award winning Compass Veterans Center-Renton, a home for 38 single veterans and 20 veterans with families. We commenced construction of the 50-unit Dekko Apartments at the Gethsemane Lutheran Church site in downtown Seattle. In addition, the Compass Housing team effectively and compassionately operated programs that welcomed 1600 people each day to our Compass Housing Community. The Church of Steadfast Love, led by Pastor Kristy Daniels continued to grow and nurture the lives of its members. We struggled to meet a growing demand for services and were forced to turn away those we could not serve. In short, we worked hard, accomplished goals, prayed, laughed, and wept together.

The financial operating results for 2010 show an actual cash loss of about $500,000. This cash loss for 2010 consumed a significant portion of our cash reserves. A balanced budget was an absolute requirement for 2011, so we had to make difficult budget cuts in services. The budget decision process was painful because we are aware that, when we reduce services, very vulnerable people suffer very real harm.

Our 2010 financial results suffered because individual and congregational contributions, together with foundation gifts to the merged entity, Compass Housing Alliance, were not equal to the gifts previously received by the three separate entities. We are communicating our need to you in this report because we need you, our supporters, to understand that Compass Housing Alliance now serves more people than were served by the combination of the three merged entities in 2009. The expenses of providing high quality housing and services continue to increase.

On behalf of the individuals and families who have been served because you decided to share your gifts with people in need, thank you for your support. Your investment in the life and health of our community's vulnerable people makes a positive difference in all of our lives. I ask you to continue with your financial support and prayers for our ministry.

Thank you for reading my letter and considering my request.

Rick Friedhoff
Executive Director

Our Mission

In the Lutheran tradition of caring through service, Compass Housing Alliance develops and provides essential services and affordable housing for homeless and low-income people in the greater Puget Sound region.

Vision

A world in which every person lives in a safe, caring community.

Highlights of 2010

2010 was our first year as Compass Housing Alliance after the merger of the Compass Center and LATCH!

We integrated our staffs, accounting, insurance, property management, and Boards. We are still learning from each other, but the merger is working well.

First Church Men's Shelter found a new and improved home!

In April, the 60-person men's shelter was moved to the new spacious First United Methodist Blaine Center at 2nd and Denny, a space designed and built as an urban ministry site. This new space and the renewal of a partnership with the First United Methodist congregation are wonderful additions to the men's shelter program.

Affordable family housing programs continued to enrich children's lives.

In addition to safe, affordable living conditions, children at Northlake Grove, Easternwood and The Courts benefited from volunteer-led activities and homework nights.

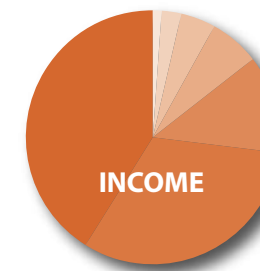

Puppet Making at The Courts

Compass Veterans Center-Renton opened in October!

It was completed on time and within budget. The Veterans Center is fully occupied by 38 single adults and 20 families. The apartment units are beautiful and the community spaces welcoming. We are especially grateful for the support of congregations and individuals who generously sponsored and furnished apartments.

What We Saw in 2010

Number of pieces of mail processed through the Client Services Office in 2010:

164,489

To help 9,925 people correspond with family, pay bills, and receive benefits.

Median income of the 23 residents at the Karlstrom Apartments:

$9,600

These incomes are very low--only about 21% of the Area Median Income.

Percentage of clients who use the Adult Day Center who have a disability:

64%

This is probably on the low side, as it does not account for undiagnosed or unreported mental illness.

Combined number of showers taken at the Hygiene Center and Adult Day Center:

46,817

We also did 13,190 loads of laundry and provided countless other services that allow folks on the streets to have clean clothes and a clean body.

Number of First Church Men's Shelter guests who moved into transitional or permanent housing, respectively:

43 and 37

Don't forget the Pioneer Square Men's Program (48 positive transitions); Cascade Women's Program (33 positive move-outs); Transitional Houses (18); Shoreline Veterans Center (26); Hammond House Women's Shelter (38); Roy Street Shelter (34); and Nightwatch Shelter (24). And the Adult Service Center helped 31 people get into housing!

Percentage of Family Program households who retained housing for at least six months after leaving the program:

92%

We think this shows the value of our excellent case management and children's advocacy.

Number of people who lived in our permanent affordable housing units:

528

This includes families and adult individuals, comprising 280 households over the course of the year, in our 229 apartments.

Percentage of households at the Renton Veterans Center with incomes under 30% of the Area Median Income:

85%

Thankfully, at the Veterans Center, residents pay a pre-determined proportion (30%) of their income in rent so that they can stabilize income and expenses.

Beyond the Numbers

It's a sunny Wednesday afternoon. Three-year old Evan and 15-month-old Jacob play happily in their immaculate third-floor apartment at the Compass Veterans Center in Renton. Their dad, Max, has a Mariners game playing on the TV in the background. It smells like something delicious has recently been baked.

Max's journey to the Veterans Center began when he was an electrician for the Navy for six years. While working on a ship, he badly injured his back. When he got out of the Navy in 1983, he filed a claim for the injury, but it went nowhere. He went on to look for jobs and ended up working as a truck driver for 25 years. But every couple of years, his injury resurfaced and he would end up out of work, collecting worker's compensation until it ran out or he could heal enough to get another job. During the toughest times, he spent periods of time homeless, staying with friends and family, living out of his car, or sleeping under the freeway.

After his latest re-injury, the company he had worked for refused to pay worker's comp, saying that the injury originated from his military service. Meanwhile, the VA couldn't find his military records showing that Max had been in an accident or that he filed a claim for benefits. Hours away from being homeless and losing both of his young boys, Max received his apartment in the Compass Veterans Center and moved in October 2010. "Bottom line," he says, "If I didn't live here, these kids would be in foster care."

While living at the Veterans Center, Max has worked with staff to access services through King County Vets and other Veterans Organizations. They've managed to recover almost all of his military records, which he hopes will allow him some benefits for his injury. Meanwhile, he lives on unemployment, which is barely enough to cover his rent, car, food and diapers. "I'm not where I want to be, but I'm stable," he says. Max hopes to find his own place within a year so that the boys can have a yard.

Fighting to keep his kids and struggling to stay in housing has been hard. Max is happy to have this place. "I'm grateful for what I've got, and I respect what I've got," he says. This sense of respect is obvious, from the spotlessly clean apartment to the homemade Indian fry bread the boys are munching (he makes almost all of their food from scratch), to the patio garden that he's using to teach Evan and Jacob about gardening. For now, the Compass Veterans Center is a home for this caring father and his two growing boys.
